DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments filed 11/23/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. See arguments below.

I. Rejection of claims 1-7,9,10,14,15,18,20-22,24,25 under 35 USC 103(a) as being obvious over JP '003 and Shafer et al will be maintained for reasons on record and reason as follows. Applicant argues that the prior art does not teach a system having 2 distinct components; wherein, the first component (polymer plus carrier plus adjuvant) is applied to leaves petal of plant / flower and the a second component (plant energy source plus antimicrobial) into which the plant / flower is placed into. Examiner argues that Applicant provides no data which shows the advantage of having the instant 2 component system versus a single component system. In a claim directed to a system application steps have no patentable significance.

Applicant argues that JP '003 fails to teach / suggest properties of the instant polymers for the first component. Examiner argues that Applicant claims are open to a broad range of polymers. See page 6 line 15 – page 10 line 23. The polymers applicable to Applicants invention are not limited to those cited (named) in instant specification. See page 6 lines 15,16.

II. Double Patent Rejection of record is maintained. Examiner acknowledges Applicant's willingness to file terminal disclaimer at the time when instant claims are allowable.

III. Objection to claims 11-13,16,17,19,23,27,28 is maintained for reasons on record.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
